What do Al Gore, Pat Robertson, Newt Gingrich and Bonnie Raitt have in common? They are a few of the diverse mix of people who are calling for action in global warming and other environmental issues. If you are among those who ask, “As one person, how can I make a difference?” please plan to attend the upcoming event.

The Bellevue-Hale Neighborhood Association Board in cooperation with the National Jewish Medical and Research Center is hosting a sustainability networking event, “Living Green in Our Community.” This event will be held at the National Jewish Molly Blank Conference Center, 1400 Jackson Street, Denver (entrance off of Colfax Ave.) on Saturday, October 27, 2007. Registration is at 8:30am and the event is from 9:00am to 12:30pm. Admission is only $5.00 per person or $7.00 for a family.

Representatives from Green Print Denver and Excel Energy’s Residential Energy Conservation Program will present information pertinent to their areas of concern. Following the presentations there will be break-out sessions and information booths on: home energy efficiency; water conservation; transportation; recycling and proper disposal of toxic materials; living a green life and more.

Used ink cartridges and old cell phones, which have elements that are harmful to the environment, will be collected at the event and proceeds will benefit the Kunsberg Elementary School at National Jewish Hospital.
